ASCENDANT PREDICTIONS

Description

Ascendant is one of the most sought concepts in astrology when it comes to predicting the minute events in your life. At the time of birth, the sign that rises in the sky is the person's ascendant. It helps in making predictions about the minute events, unlike your Moon or Sun sign that help in making weekly, monthly or yearly predictions for you.

Your ascendant is Leo

Personality

Those born with the Leo ascendant are extremely versatile and can thrive in any circumstances. They do, however, require constant care. They like becoming the focus of interest and are excellent people-pleasers, which could be linked to their natural charisma and fun-loving disposition. Leo ascendants could be both outgoing and nerds and calm and earnest communicators in similar situations. At times, they can be egomaniacs but are also extremely kind, liberal, warm, cheerful, and elevated. They don't hold grudges over anything and prefer to be alone. If someone troubles them, they might experience wrath for a brief time, but it would end quickly. They are also exceptionally skilled at finding and appreciating the positive characteristics of others. Leo ascendant natives are generous and free themselves for their loved ones anytime they are wanted.

Physical

Ruled by the planet Sun, Leo ascendant individuals usually have a charming persona and create a beautiful and captivating impression on others. However, in areas of shape, they might not be as fortunate as their personality. They are often of medium height with a well-sculpted upper torso. Leo has a broad chin and an oval-shaped and wide face along with yellowish-toned eyes. Leos, whether male or female, look to be in control but are easily pushed and aggressive. The quickness of response and aggression, as well as vigor and enthusiasm, are all prominent traits.

Health

The natives of the Leo ascendant have a tendency to overwhelm themselves with pressure and exhaustion, making them vulnerable to nervous breakdowns and anxiety. They are likely to have sensitive skin that might react to even minor atmospheric or regional variations. The heart is another major area of suffering for people born under the rising sign of Leo. They must be mindful of disorders like blockage of heart arteries due to blood clots or heart attacks. Their mental breakdown may also cause heart palpitations. They may also be unwell, with high fevers, backaches, and other similar ailments.

Career

Any type of acting or modeling is ideal for them since the attention in these professions is solely on them as a person. There are, obviously, a variety of jobs that allow Leo rising natives to flourish in a less observable way. If they engage in a company as a team member, they would be satisfied as long as they could create a unique effort that is acknowledged as their own.

Performing as an entrepreneur provides the people with Leo ascendant with a great degree of satisfaction since they always know that they are the ones who have achieved success. They will succeed in speaking in public or teaching if this is combined with their urge to express themselves. Because they are great with people, any job in management is a fantastic fit for them.

Relationship

Long-term relationships and marriage are not a problem for Leo ascendants. They are devoted lovers, yet their endless need for affection can be exhausting for their companion. If they refuse to love and fawn in their connection, they will seek out another person who offers them the same. They might not form a good partner in an optimal scenario. Plus, they are helpless when considering their spouse's sentiments and may be harsh unintentionally, causing harm to their relationship. They might, however, always desire to be the centerpiece and will indeed not wish to be with somebody who did not have a pleasant personality to go along with their charisma.

Rudraksha Suggestion Report

This Rudraksha suggestion report aims to help you choose the most suitable Rudraksha that you can wear to have the blessings of Lord Shiva. This report considers the Nakshatra that you were born in to suggest the most appropriate Rudraksha for you. Wearing the recommended Rudraksha shall shield you against the negative energies and help retain positivity in your life.

Rudraksha & its importance

Rudraksha beads are produced by the 'Rudraksha Tree' scientifically called Elaeocarpus. The tree grows at a certain altitude in the mountains, especially the Himalayas – the home to Lord Shiva. The seeds are known to have very unique vibrations that aid the spiritual and physical growth of the wearer. In Hindu scriptures, it is mentioned that the one who wears Rudraksha is blessed with the virtues of Dharma, Artha, Kama, and Moksha. Wearing Rudraksha, in fact, allows the wearer to connect with Lord Shiva and his divine energies. It is a belief that the wearer of Rudraksha not only pleases Lord Shiva but also Goddess Durga, Lord Indra, Lord Brahma, Lord Vishnu, Lord Ganesh, Lord Kartikeya, Lord Aditya, and many other deities. If you want to condemn your sins or faults and purify your life, a Rudraksha is a good tool to begin with. It is said that a person's sins burn down to ashes by merely looking at a Rudraksha. On the other hand, wearing a Rudraksha helps in the fulfilment of the desires of the wearer.

The number of faces a Rudraksha has varies from 1-Mukhi to 21-Mukhi, all of which are used for different purposes. Henceforth, it is not advisable to buy any Rudraksha of your choice, wear it, and expect it to work. In fact, wearing the wrong Rudraksha can disturb a native's life by exposing him to wrong energies or simply overpowering a certain planet or leaving it strengthless. Therefore, it is very important that you get a consultation from an astrologer to astrologically decide the most suitable Rudraksha for yourself.
